

Tabletopics: Pick Something

Summary

Pick Something is a drama-based table topic. It is best played in groups, as youth tend to be shy about acting. Groups pick items from a bag and use them as props in skits suggested by the audience.

Instructions

1. Bring a bag full of random household/assorted items.
2. Divide the participants into groups (you choose the size), or call them up individually.
3. Have the groups/individuals pick an item.
4. Each group/individual has to act out a skit (that the audience can suggest) using the item as a prop.

Alternative Ideas

- Have them explain why it is the best gift they've received (as though from a senile grandmother).
- Have them create a name for it and give a sales pitch.
